Project Overview:

Evans Jones was appointed to consider the feasibility of the demolition and re-development of a site in Gloucester.

Challenges:

The Spreadeagle Court site, which is considered a 'gateway' site for Gloucester City Centre, presented a significant challenge in terms of design, particularly as the existing buildings are considered of historical significance.

Service: Planning strategy

Location: Avening, Gloucestershire

Results:

As part of the planning consultancy, concept designs were prepared in a 3D format, enabling us to prepare photo montage images, to enable clients and planners to visualise new buildings in the context of the existing surroundings.
